

Dept. of Music

The Department of Music offers a wide range of courses to help students improve their abilities in creating, interpreting, and performing music. The curriculum focuses on developing performance skills and broadening knowledge in related fields. Students have ample opportunities for public performance on and off campus during their academic years. In addition, students are encouraged to cultivate their intellectual curiosity and interest in every aspect of music.

□ Composition Major

The major in Composition is designed to enhance the ability to create music that can offer a new perspective in music history. Students are exposed to a wide range of musical trends and learn to adapt to new musical environments through actual performance and concrete practice.

□ Voice Major

The Voice major offers private lessons for students to develop their vocal talent. The major seeks to produce accomplished vocalists who will be successful in their professional pursuits as performers and vocal instructors.

□ Piano Performance Major

The Piano major requires the ability to interpret and analyze new music repertoire, theory, and literature based on the undergraduate study. Students are trained to become professional musicians and educators. In order to successfully meet this goal, students engage in a variety of course work, develop musical skills through individual piano lessons, and participate in domestic and international master classes and seminars.

□ Orchestral Instruments Major

The Instrumental major prepares students to develop into excellent and professional players who can contribute new ideas to the contemporary musical environment. The major offers effective and practical course programs. In addition to providing opportunities for students to participate in chamber ensembles and individual lessons, students partake in internationally acclaimed master classes, concerts, and seminars.

□ Collaborative Major

The collaborative piano major will train in key techniques and musical knowledge in the main repertory to become a professional accompanist. They will utilize and have an understanding of the essential repertoire for the professional accompanist. They conduct exchanges with other universities for the ever expanding chamber music study. They do this in order to contribute to the development of the whole culture of arts, and to understand and learn the educational components required for professional music leaders.
